Section 5. Traditional Medical Coverage Subject to the Deductible

Important things you should keep in mind about these benefits:

- Please remember that all benefits are subject to the definitions, limitations, and exclusions in this brochure and any applicable medical or payment policies. Policies may be found on our website geha.com/Provider-Policies. In some instances, additional services may be rendered, and additional cost shares may apply.
- Preventive care is covered at 100% (see Section 5, Preventive care) if rendered by preferred providers and is not subject to the calendar year deductible. Preventive care from non-preferred providers is covered under Traditional medical coverage subject to the deductible.
- Benefits are applied based on how your provider bills Us. You must reference all Sections in this Brochure depending on where your care is obtained. For example, but not limited to, any procedure, injection, diagnostic service, laboratory, or x-ray service done in a hospital in conjunction with a physician office examination may apply separate cost share depending on where you obtain your care.
- The calendar year deductible is $1,800 for Self Only enrollment and $3,600 for a Self Plus One enrollment or Self and Family enrollment each calendar year when you use in-network providers. The deductible is $4,500 for Self Only enrollment and $9,000 for Self Plus One or Self and Family enrollment when you use out-of-network providers. Only plan allowance paid for services or supplies from out-of-network providers counts towards this amount. The Self Plus One or the Self and Family deductible can be satisfied by one or more family members. Applicable coinsurance applies after you met your Deductible until you've reached your Out-of-Pocket Maximum.
- Under Traditional medical coverage, you are responsible for your coinsurance for covered expenses.
- You are protected by an annual catastrophic maximum on out-of-pocket expenses for covered services. After your coinsurance and deductibles total $6,000 per person or $12,000 per family for a Self Plus One enrollment or a Self and Family enrollment in any calendar year when you use an in-network provider, you do not have to pay any more for covered services. If you use an out-of-network provider, your maximum out-of-pocket expenses are $8,500 per person or $17,000 per family for a Self Plus One or a Self and Family enrollment in any calendar year. Only out-of-pocket expenses from out-of-network providers count towards those limits. However, certain expenses do not count toward your out-of-pocket maximum and you must continue to pay these expenses once you reach your out-of-pocket maximum (such as expenses in excess of the Plan's benefit maximum, or if you use out-of-network providers, amounts in excess of the Plan allowance).
- In-network benefits apply only when you use a network provider. When a network provider is not available, out-of-network benefits apply.
- Be sure to read Section 4, Your Costs for Covered Services, for valuable information about how cost-sharing works. Also, read Section 9, Coordinating Benefits with Medicare and Other Coverage, for information about how we pay if you have other coverage, or if you are age 65 or over.
- YOU MUST GET PREAUTHORIZATION FOR SOME SERVICES. Please refer to the preauthorization information shown in Section 3 to be sure which services require preauthorization.
- Medications may be available under the Prescription drug benefit and may require prior authorization.
- Benefits for certain prescription medications and supplies (e.g., self-injectable or self-administered) are only eligible for coverage when dispensed by a pharmacy under the pharmacy benefit even if you obtain these medications from your provider.
