Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA)

If you are not eligible for an HSA, or become ineligible to continue an HSA, you are eligible for a Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA). Although an HRA is similar to an HSA, there are major differences.

- An HRA does not earn interest.
- An HRA is not portable if you leave the Federal government or switch to another plan.

Catastrophic protection

We protect you against catastrophic out-of-pocket expenses for covered services. The IRS limits annual out-of-pocket expenses for covered services, including deductibles and coinsurance, to no more than $8,500 for Self Only enrollment, or $17,000 for a Self Plus One or Self and Family enrollment when you use in-network providers. The out-of-pocket limit for this Plan may differ from the IRS limit but cannot exceed that amount. See Section 5(f)(a) if you are enrolled in our Medicare Prescription Drug Plan (PDP) Employer Group Waiver Plan (EGWP).

Health education resources and account management tools

Our website, at geha.com/Health-Wellness-Library, offers access to our Healthy Living resources for a wide range of information on general topics, pregnancy and childbirth, diabetes management and gym discounts.

You will find facts and frequently asked questions about health savings accounts and health reimbursement arrangements on our website at geha.com/HDHP-HSA. You can access your HRA account balance in addition to complete claim payment history through our website at geha.com/My-Member-Portal. To access your HSA account balance, go to geha.com/HDHP-HSA.

Your rights and responsibilities

OPM requires that all PSHB plans provide certain information to their PSHB members. You may get information about us, our networks, and our providers. OPM's PSHB website (www. opm.gov/insure) lists the specific types of information that we must make available to you. Some of the required information is listed below:

- G.E.H.A was founded in 1937 as the Railway Mail Hospital Association. For over 88 years, G.E.H.A has provided health insurance benefits to Federal employees and retirees.
- G.E.H.A is incorporated as a General Not-For-Profit Corporation pursuant to Chapter 355 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Missouri.

You are also entitled to a wide range of consumer protections and have specific responsibilities as a member of this Plan. You can view the complete list of these rights and responsibilities by visiting our website, geha.com/Member-Rights. You can also contact us to request that we mail a copy to you.

If you wish to make a suggestion, file a formal complaint, require language translation services, or if you want more information about us, call 800-821-6136, or write to G.E.H.A Enrollment, PO Box 21262, Eagan, MN 55121. You may also visit our website at geha.com/Submit-Feedback.

By law, you have the right to access your protected health information (PHI). For more information regarding access to PHI, visit our website at geha.com/Your-Data-Protection to obtain our Notice of Privacy Practices. You can also contact us to request that we mail you a copy of that Notice.

Your medical and claims records are confidential

We will keep your medical and claims records confidential. Please note that we may disclose your medical and claims information (including your prescription drug utilization) to any of your treating physicians or dispensing pharmacies.
